

MASTER 2 ADVANCED RESEARCH IN MANAGEMENT OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS (ARAMIS)

Initial training

Admission level Bac+4

Program level Bac+5

Grenoble campus

Career opportunities

- Academic careers in universities or business schools
- Opportunity to progress to further advanced degrees (e.g. PhD)
- A range of professions in the area of Information systems management profession
- Consulting and auditing professions

The Master "Advanced Research in Management of Information Systems" program offers students training in novel research techniques and methods, and in-depth theoretical knowledge of information systems. This program will provide you with an excellent understanding of the research process and a high level of specialized knowledge in information systems.

Strengths

- Training in advanced research methods
- An innovative "learning by doing" teaching approach
- Delivered by experienced and international faculty
- Access to the doctoral college and potential funding
- The program is completely taught in English
- Based in a major university (ranked in the Shanghai list of Top World Universities)
- Set in a stunning campus with a vibrant student life
- Grenoble is based in the Auvergne-Rhône-Alps region, a dynamic city with a thriving economy

Entry requirements

Eligibility

For Europeans : Undergraduate degree with 240 ECTS.
For non-Europeans : A 4-year undergraduate degree from a established university committee.

Advanced level in English (TOEIC, TOEFL, etc.).

Admission process

Application form.

Interview with University admission panel.

Target audience

Students possessing a Master's 1 or 2 degree with a basic training in information systems or computer science / management / statistics / supply chain from Management or Computer Science Schools.

Students in second or third year from Grandes Ecoles of Commerce and Engineering schools are also invited to apply.

Students from other fields such as medicine, humanities, social sciences, psychology and foreign languages with a strong interest in Information Technology, can apply.

Students that have obtained the necessary ECTS credits in the Master 1 program in Management of Information Systems will have privileged access

Course Curriculum

The "Advanced Research in Management of Information Systems" is a one year degree and requires successful completion of 120 credits over 2 semesters.

Program Tuition Fees

For students in higher education (« formation initiale ») at Grenoble IAE, academic fees for a Masters program is 243 euros (indicative rates for 2018/2019).

For students who have had a break (of more than two years) in their studies will be classified as continuing education students and will pay a mandatory fee of 2500 euros (indicative rates for 2018/2019).

Workplace integration

93% of Grenoble IAE graduates find employment within one year after graduation.

Median net yearly salary 31176 euros

Contact

msi-m2aramis@grenoble-iae.fr

Tél. +33 (0)4.76.82.59.34

More information and online pre-registration on IAE website, 'How to apply' section

www.grenoble-iae.fr/en/

